

We have been super busy this half term learning about lots of different things. We have been looking at rhyming, shapes, discussing our favourite characters and tasting pancakes.

Here are some little activities you could try doing during the short break to keep you busy. Please share your finding and email any pictures to nursery@angrambank.co.uk and we can add these to our displays and learning journeys.

Spend some time with loved ones.

- Can you tell the story of 'Hairy Maclary' to a grown up?
- What words sound the same?
- Can you go on a local walk through your town?

Visit to the Library

We have been discussing 'Respect' during the last week, looking at what it means to respect someone or something.

Our key focus was 'Libraries'

Have a visit to your local library, remembering the rules.

Hungry Caterpillar

Can you match some shapes to the fruits you see?

Can you re-tell the story of 'The Very Hungry Caterpillar'?

We would just like to say thank you for your continued support and contributions.

Don't forget to check out our class blog! Here we share all our fantastic learning and important announcements . <http://www.angrambankprimary.co.uk/class-blogs>

For a bit of fun!

Lots of children have shown interest in making ramps, testing their ideas and using magnets. See if you can make your own ramps at home.
